PERSONAL SUMMARY

A client focused and results driven SAP FICO consultant who is an expert at finding creative solutions to complex problems. Maxine has a 'can do' attitude & relishes new, technical and creative challenges. One of her key strengths is her ability to translate between technical and business language. On a personal level, she is very loyal to the people she works with and is always ready to back up staff and lets them know exactly what they can expect from her. Right now, she would like to join a company where she will gain exposure to a wide range of interesting and challenging client projects.
