

Ansel Waelchi

651 Pink Ford, Dallas, TX ♦ Phone: +1 (555) 600 4940

EXPERIENCE

SENIOR ETL DEVELOPER / ADMIN

Phoenix, AZ

12/2013 – present

- Work with the Project Leader to define tasks and create team work plans with moderate supervision
- Work closely with internal customers, IT staff, vendors and consultants to plan and execute development projects
- Working knowledge of and business intelligence tools such as Cognos or Business Objects and data quality and cleansing tools associated with Informatica
- Attend on-going training on the job, through courses, self-study, and certifications to maintain and enhance technical and business capabilities
- Follow technical service level and security standards for data warehousing and decision support systems
- Self-motivated with critical attention to detail, deadlines and reporting
- 24 X 7 on call responsibilities for one week at a time (every 10th week of the year)

MID-SENIOR ETL DEVELOPER

Detroit, MI

06/2009 – 08/2013

- Support other ETL developers; providing mentoring, technical assistance, troubleshooting and alternative development solutions
- Develop key integrations with both internal and external systems
- Collaborate with team members to prototype, test, and debug code which will provide data for use in business reports
- ETL development, testing, implementation, and support of integration solutions
- Support ETL and Data Warehouse production, development & test environments
- Conversion/Migration of data into new systems
- Data analysis, data mapping, data loading, and data validation

SENIOR ETL DEVELOPER

Houston, TX

09/2003 – 12/2008

- Work on CPB global applications related ETL and data integration developments
- Work with global and regional development teams in support of strategic efforts for systems expansion and improvement
- Leading a team of more Senior Analyst Programmers, managing work allocation, providing process and technical coaching, and managing their delivery
- Providing inputs into risk analyses and development plans to take account of design decisions
- Organisational Improvement
- Creating and amending programmes in accordance with the design following relevant code management procedures and applying agreed coding standards
- Providing technical support to project managers and both Expert/Lead Analyst Programmers

EDUCATION

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY

Bachelor's Degree in Computer Science

SKILLS

- Strong understanding of basic Database Administration. Able to define quality and security standards
- Excellent writing skills, oral communication skills, strong process skills, and leadership ability
- Knowledge of Broadridge BPS platform is highly desirable
- Exceptional attention to detail. Excellent organization, planning and project management skills
- Should have good knowledge of Core JAVA language and understanding of J2EE framework
- Should have very good knowledge of any one of Abinitio/Informatica Products
- Ability to implement re-usable data-integration/ETL code in an enterprise data-warehouse environment
- Ability to efficiently QA your own work to ensure that processes you built generate high quality output
- A willingness to develop additional skills in order to enable more flexible working within the organisation.
- Learnability
- Excellent knowledge of SQL